Jackson County Government: History

Jackson County is two years older than the state of Illinois. It was created in 1816 in response to a petition of settlers, in particular Conrad Will and William Boon, to the Territorial Government. Most of the county was originally part of Randolph County. The first county seat was Brownsville, but after a disastrous fire in 1843, the county seat was moved about three miles east where the new town of Murphysboro was built.

In the beginning, the county was governed by a County Commissioners Court with executive and judicial responsibilities. The first members were appointed by the Territorial Governor. The county's elected officials included the county clerk, treasurer, sheriff, tax assessor, and justice of the peace. Other county officials were appointed by the court, including jurors for the grand and traverse juries. The county clerk received a salary. The sheriff, who also served as tax collector, received a percentage of tax monies collected. The treasurer received a percentage of his disbursements; while the commissioners received a per diem fee for attendance at meetings.

In 1785, federal law had established the congressional township system as a means of establishing exact property descriptions. In 1848, Illinois law facilitated the use of this system as the basis of local government, and it was adopted by Jackson County. The county was divided into four townships: Degognia (NW), Brownsville (SW and central), Crab Orchard (SE), and Beaucoup (NE). Road supervisors, fence viewers (who settled property boundary disputes), and overseers of the poor were appointed in each township. In addition, magistrate districts, which served also as election districts, were set up; but these districts did not necessarily correspond with the townships. As the population of the county grew, the four original townships were expanded to seven. Currently there are 16 townships in Jackson County.

An excellent summary of the development of county government is contained in the Jackson County Historical Society publication, Jackson County-- Formation and Early Settlers. For information about early towns and villages in Jackson County, Ghost Towns of Southern Illinois by Glenn J. Sneed, Johnston City, IL, 62951, provides a short statement about sixty-two towns in Jackson County.

TOWNSHIP GOVERNMENT

Jackson County operates under the township form of county government. Townships are independent unit of local government with limited powers in a few specific areas. This concept is derived from the New England "town" as the general purpose unit of local government.

Until 1972, the 16 township supervisors, along with seven additional representatives from Carbondale Township and three from Murphysboro Township, constituted the 26-member Jackson County Board of Supervisors. To comply with federal court ruling which mandated representation based on the one-man-one vote principle, the county government was reorganized into its present structure. In those Illinois counties that operate under the commission form of government, services provided through our townships may be provided by county or municipal governments.

Within Jackson County there are 16 townships, which are listed in the table below. Each township elects a supervisor, a town clerk, an assessor, a highway commissioner, and a four-member Board of Trustees. The supervisor is the chief administrative officer of the township, serving as treasurer of the road and bridge fund and as administrator of the general assistance fund.

It is the responsibility of township government to levy taxes, build and repair roads and bridges, dispense emergency general assistance, and complete township assessment. (There are three multi township assessment districts. ) Some townships provide fire protection services. Townships are financed by property taxes, motor fuel taxes, and general revenue sharing funds.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

There are 11 incorporated cities and villages in Jackson County, each with its own elected officials. Each municipality provides those services demanded by its citizens, which may include fire protection, library services, road repair and construction, and water and sewer services. Municipalities may levy taxes or charge fees to provide these services. The two largest municipalities are listed here.

Carbondale has a council-manager form of government. The council functions as the legislative body, while the city manager is responsible for the administrative organization of the municipality. The council consists of a mayor and six councilmen who run non-partisan and are elected at-large for four-year staggered terms. The mayor is the official head of the city and, with city council consent, is responsible for appointing members to the various boards, commissions, and committees of the city.

Council Meetings: 7:00 pm, the first and third Tuesdays of the month or as established annually by council action. Meetings are posted online on the city's web site.
City Council Chambers, Carbondale City Hall, 200 S. Illinois Ave., Carbondale

Every agenda includes the item "Citizen Questions and Comments" to permit discussion of any topic by any citizen. Elections: spring, odd numbered year.

The city of Murphysboro has an executive mayor/aldermanic form of government. The elected officials include the mayor, city clerk, and 10 aldermen (two from each of five wards), who constitute the city council. The responsibilities of administering the city are divided among the aldermen, each of whom must report back to the whole council concerning the operations of the assigned department. The council legislates; and the mayor administers with the help of the city clerk and treasurer. The mayor presides at all council meetings and makes appointments with the approval of the council. Elections: spring, odd numbered years.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

The Illinois Constitution charges the General Assembly to provide a system of free schools whereby "the State shall provide for an efficient system of high quality public educational institutes and services."

Responsibility for the administration of public school education is delegated to local school boards operating in local school districts. School district boundaries may cross county lines and have no relationship to city or township lines.

A local school district may choose to operate as an unit district or as a dual district. In an unit district, all grades (K-12) are governed by a single board of education. In a dual district, the elementary schools (grades K-8) and the high schools (grades 9-12) are governed by separate boards. The Carbondale High School and 4 feeder schools operate as a dual district. Murphysboro schools operate as a unit district. Of the eight school districts in Jackson County, there are three unit districts, four grade school districts, and one high school district.

Each school district has an elected board of education consisting of 7 members. The board hires a district superintendent who is responsible for implementing board policy, administrating district funds, producing an annual district budget which is used to determine the district tax levy, and overseeing the educational program for the students within the district.

Special Purpose Districts

A special purpose district is a form of local government authorized by state statute. (Ill. Const., Art VII; Ill Rev. Stat., Ch. 1, Sec. 1029ff; Ch. 12, 1; and Index under specific types of districts.) Each special purpose district is administratively independent from all other units of local government, usually provides a single service, and is authorized to levy taxes or fees in support of that service. Special districts provide services by taxing only the residents of a specific geographical region, are governed by boards appointed from among residents of that area by the county board, and provide services that are primarily beneficial to those residing in the district.

There are multiple special districts in Jackson County. No one lives in all districts; how many you are in depends on where you live.

Special districts in Jackson County include the following:

Carbondale Mosquito Abatement District	457-8976
Southern Illinois Airport Authority	529-1721
Jackson County Extension Service District	687-1727
Jackson/Union Regional Port District	684-2673
Kinkaid-Reed Conservancy District	687-1722
Jackson County Mass Transit District	351-1836

Murphysboro, Pomona, Somerset Fire Protection District	687-1344
Tower Rock Fire District	565-2070
DeSoto Township Fire District	867-2019

Grand Tower Levee and Drainage District	967-3629
Degognia/ Fountain Bluff Levee and Drainage District	763-4732

Alto Pass Water District
Blairsville Water District	987-2075
Buncombe Water District	549-0432
Devil's Kitchen Water District	549-5141
Elverado Water District	542-5411

POLICE SERVICES

Police Services in Jackson County are organized on several levels. The entire county is under the jurisdiction of the Jackson County Sheriff's Department. The municipalities of Carbondale and Murphysboro both have full-time police forces which function within their respective city limits. DeSoto has a small part-time police force, as do Grand Tower, Ava, and Elkhart/Dowell. In addition, Southern Illinois University, a state-funded institution, maintains a full-time security force which has jurisdictional authority on the SIU campus.

Cooperation between the various police departments and the sheriff's department has been very good in recent years, which greatly facilitates the solving of crimes throughout the county.

The Jackson County Sheriff's Department maintains jail facilities which serve the entire county. The Carbondale Police Department has a temporary detention facility where a person may be held a maximum of four hours. All other police departments transfer prisoners immediately to the county jail for housing.

FIRE PROTECTION SERVICES

In Jackson County, there are 3 forms of fire protection: Municipal fire departments, township fire departments and fire protection districts. Not all of the county residents are covered by one of the organized fire departments; coverage depends on where a resident lives. Some Jackson County residents may be able to obtain out-of-town fire coverage from the fire department of an adjoining county.

JACKSON COUNTY CITIZEN INFORMATION

VOTER REGISTRATION

WHO MAY REGISTER:

Any U.S. citizen of at least 18 years of age who has resided in his election precinct for 30 days prior to election day, and who is not disqualified by insanity or criminal record.

Note: Two pieces of identification that verify your name and address are required at the time of registration.

WHERE TO REGISTER:

Voter registration is conducted at all of the following locations:

1. County Clerk's office, Court House, Murphysboro, 9 am- 4 pm weekdays
2. City Clerk's office, Carbondale, 9 am - 4 pm weekdays
3. Dowell and DeSoto Village Hall- working hours.
4. Temporary locations where deputy registrars are on duty
5. At home registration by deputy registrars at large or party precinct committeemen.
6. For the physically disabled: request home visit by registration team.

WHEN TO REGISTER:

For the deadline for registering to vote, check the deadline at

www.co.jackson.il.us

<http://www.elections.state.il.us/>

GRACE PERIOD REGISTRATION

Grace period registration is an extension of the period of time for a voter to register to vote, or to update their registration information. This extends registration from the normal close of registration up through the 3rd day before the election. This is normally done at the County Clerk's office. The newly registered voter may then also complete early voting.

RE-REGISTRATION:

Re-registration is required to maintain voter eligibility, if you:

1. Move to another county
2. Move within county. Report change of address by filling out reverse side of Voter Identification Card and sending it to the County Clerk's office.
3. Change of name by marriage or other means.
4. Change of mailing address.
5. Failure to vote in a four-year period.

ELECTIONS

Polls are open 6:00 am - 7:00 pm

General Primary Election

Even-numbered years, 3rd Tuesday in March

General Election

Even-numbered years, 1st Tuesday after 1st Monday in November.

Consolidated Primary Election

Odd-numbered years, last Tuesday in February.

Consolidated Election

Odd-numbered years, 1st Tuesday in April.

For dates of elections, check:

www.co.jackson.il.us

www.elections.state.il.us

VOTING LOCATION

Precinct number is indicated on Voter Identification Card issued at the time of registration. Consult local newspaper prior to election, or call County, City, or Village Clerk for precinct voting place. Or check

www.co.jackson.il.us

www.elections.state.il.us

MANNER OF VOTING

Jackson County uses a scan card method of voting, in which voters darken the bubble next to the name of the candidate selected by the voter. Accessible voting machines are available for those with disabilities.

ABSENTEE VOTING

The state of Illinois has instituted a policy of no excuse required absentee voting. The time period begins 40 days prior to election day and ends the day before the election. A voter may apply for an absentee ballot by contacting the Jackson County Clerk by mail or in person.

EARLY VOTING

The period for early voting begins 22 days before the election and ends the Saturday before the election. Early voting is available at the County Courthouse during normal office hours. Other locations may be established throughout the county for early voting, such as Carbondale city hall. Check with the County Clerk for exact schedule and/or locations.

HOW TO SELECT CANDIDATES

Many citizens find the following websites useful in deciding which candidate to select:

www.votesmart.org

for positions submitted by candidates.

www.ilcampaigns.org

for information on campaign finance disclosure.

www.lwvil.org

for information about the election calendar, how to vote, how to contact representatives, etc.

www.elections.state.il.us

for election calendar, how to register to vote, how to vote, who is running, and for campaign finance disclosure.

COMMUNICATING WITH PUBLIC OFFICIALS

In communicating with public officials, the best means is a short telephone message, e-mail or letter, sent by U.S. mail or telefax, that is clear as to what you want and the reason. If a piece of legislation is the subject of your communication, it is helpful to include the bill number and subject matter.

E.g., You might write:

"I urge you to oppose S.B. 230, which proposes to make roses the national flower of Illinois. I oppose the bill because I prefer lilacs that are found throughout Illinois."

Threats and insulting language are not effective.

Many citizens find telephone calls, e-mails, or faxes to be effective. Telephone numbers and websites where you can find e-mail addresses are listed above for federal and state representatives and for many county officials.

Communications, including e-mail and letters sent by telefax or by mail to the President of the United States should be sent to THE PRESIDENT without inclusion of the office holder's name. Letters should begin: MF PRESIDENT:

Communications, including e-mail and letters sent to other office holders should be sent to THE HONORABLE <name> with the office itself as the second line of the address (e.g. U.S. Senator, Governor of Illinois). Letters should begin: DEAR (SENATOR, GOVERNOR, etc. )

MONITORING LEGISLATION

You may monitor federal legislation through this website:

www.thomas.loc.gov

You may monitor state legislation through this website:

www.ilga.gov

You may also locate public acts through those same websites.
